JUDGE PARKER PLAYED SULZER

Gave Him Most Severe Verbal Castigation He Has Received at Trial

STRIPPED TO HIS QUAKING FLESH

Until He Stands Before the Court Without a Rag—Judge Herrick Will Follow for Defense and Edgar T.
Brackett Will Make Closing Plea.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 10.—Never since impeachment trial of Gov. Sulzer opened has he been subjected to such a verbal flaying as Judge Alton B.
Parker administered in the argument for the board of managers today. Before this bar the defendant stands guilty of the offenses charged by impeachment and proven by incontro-vertible evidence," he said. "Even justice must see through its severe eyes something pathetic in the defendant's frantic efforts to cover his mishandling, his wrong-doing, his defiant defense for justification of prevarication, his denunciation of his accusers, his attempts to suppress and falsify testimony, and his efforts to cast blame elsewhere. He has been stripped to his quaking flesh, until he stands before the court without a rag, his attempted vindication clinging to his deformed and mutilated manhood."

Judge Herrick for the defense followed Parker, and Edgar T. Brackett is expected to make the closing plea for the managers.

TOWNSHEND.

BALL TEAM BANQUETED.

Entertained by Principal Powers, Followed by Speaking.

Principal Guy W. Powers entertained his baseball team and a few friends of the club at a banquet at the Inn last evening. The menu consisted of tomato soup, olives, cold ham and roast beef, egg salad, rolls, pickles, fel-ly, vanilla ice-cream, fancy cakes, coffee.

Rev. Joseph McKean was toastmaster at the post-prandial exercises. After expressing his pleasure at being present and his interest in the national game and the academy team, he called on Dr. L. J. Parker to respond to the toast, Baseball Finances. The doctor made it clear that a team cannot run without money, and suggested ways for increasing the treasury the coming winter. Herbert Harding, field captain of the L. G. S. nine, was called to reply to prospects for 1914. He outlined the progress made the past season in playing ability, and predicted a good team and lots of victories for 1914.

W. M. Sparks was called to respond to the toast, The World's Series. He gave an interesting account of the three games played thus far and expressed his interest in the national game and the academy team. The toast given to Dr. P. L. Osgood for the formation of a speech was Baseball Yea-today and Today. Doctor Osgood spoke at some length on the old game as he first played it nearly 40 years ago, and referred humorously to some of the experiences of that day when it took half

RAILROADS IN FIVE DIVISIONS

Interstate Commerce Commission to Take Physical Valuations

50,000 MILES IN EACH DISTRICT

New England Is in the Eastern Division Which Extends Along Atlantic Coast as Far South as North Carolina—Headquarters in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—In preparing for the physical valuation of the nation's railways, the interstate commerce commission has divided the country into five districts, each embracing approximately 50,000 miles.
The railroads of the New England states are included in the eastern division with headquarters at Washington, and the other states in the division are Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

a day to play a game, and the scores can up late the twenties and thirties.
The first speaker was Principal Powers, who gave a financial report of the work of the club during the season, showing that the season had been successful in that the bills are all paid and a small balance remains in the treasury. The company broke up with the Leland and Gray yell and three cheers for the host.

It is expected a game will be played on the home grounds between the L.
G. S. team and the Townshend Hustlers next Saturday afternoon, which will be the last game of the season.

Ruth Watson spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.
W. Watson.

Arthur Shattuck is spending this week with John Gould and family in Millers Falls.

Mrs. Lottie Holden visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Crozier of Guilford Tuesday and Wednesday.

Judge and Mrs. Henry B. Ferry and daughter, Sadie, who had been at Evans's three weeks, returned to their home in Hyde Park, Mass., Thursday.

Mrs. Ella Mason has erected a monument in her cemetery lot in Oakwood cemetery. It is of Barre granite, and was put up by the Mitchell Co. of Northfield. It is a four-piece oblong shaft, of a type which is both attractive and enduring.

Boston harbor nearly a week enabled the Cunard liner Laconia, from Liverpool, to work its way with the aid of tugs to the dock today after having been held in the outer harbor since Wednesday. Several freight steamers and many sailing craft are still anchored below awaiting clear weather before docking.

CORNER STONE ANNIVERSARY.

History of Congregational Church—Pastor's Salary Increased.

The celebration of the 25th anniversary of the laying of the corner stone of the Congregational church was held Wednesday afternoon and evening at the church. The exercises began at 4 o'clock with the responsive reading of Psalm 90, followed by prayer by John A. Fisher, senior deacon. A chorus of six voices sang, after which Mrs. A.
G. Moody read a paper written by the late Mrs. A. M. H. Alexander and read by her at the 75th anniversary of the incorporation of the Congregational society. The paper is an excellent statement of town history from the first settlement in the town to nearly the present time.

The first religious services were held under an old tree at the south end of Main street, now marked by a boulder.
The first church society was organized in 1718, which held its meetings in various buildings until 1833, when the Unitarian society was organized with Benjamin Doolittle as pastor, who was succeeded by Revs. Hubbard, Allen and Thomas Mason. This church was burned in 1871 and the present church was then built.

In 1825 a part of the people, not agreeing in religious belief, organized the Unitarian (1) church. In 1829 they built a church which stood until burned in 1910.

The present Congregational church was built in 1888. The society has outgrown the seating capacity of the old church when the Moody schools met with them. The land on which the church stands was the gift of Mrs. A.
M. D. Alexander, who bought it of Henry Webster for $1,700.

Rev. N. Fay Smith read another interesting paper written by Miss Car-riette Barber, giving the history of the present church. The late Deacon Edward Barber, S. C. Holton and Ira D.
Sankey were the church building committee, and H. N. F. Marshall the building contractor. It cost $24,900, and started with a mortgage of $6,000, the remainder having been given by the society and solicited by D. L.
Moody from his friends and friends of the Moody schools. In 1892 the mortgage was cancelled.

Glendale Suits and Overcoats at $15

Of which we can give a real signed Guarantee Bond—a bond that goes with every Suit or Overcoat of this brand sold. We have worked for years to get our wholesale tailors to produce clothing of this quality at this price. We could get them at $20 or $22, but never before at $15.

Glendale Clothes are made in both men's and young men's models—sizes from 33 to 50, including "longs" and stouts—and come in an endless variety of patterns.

We reproduce above an exact copy of the signed Guarantee Bond which accompanies every Glendale garment. See our windows—or better still come in and try on the clothes.

the church Ira D. Sankey sang The Ninety and Nine, and Wednesday afternoon Victoria Sankey, his granddaughter, was present and sang the same selection. Rev. S. P. Cook, the first pastor of the new church, was present and gave interesting reminis-cences of his pastorate. A letter was read from Rev. H. B. Hartzler of Harrisburg, Pa., a former pastor. A selection by the chorus and Victoria Sankey closed the exercises.

The first of the afternoon and evening services was devoted to reports of the various societies of the church, the roll call and election of officers. These interesting facts were given: The Boys' Brigade, since its organization, has had 290 members and the running expenses are $250 a year; the Men's Bible class of 35 members has raised over $50 for missions; 260 pupils were enrolled in the senior Sunday school, the average attendance being 199 and contributions $141; 91 pupils are enrolled in the junior Sunday school, the average attendance being 72 and the amount raised $102.15; the pastor has been present every Sunday morning and evening except one and when at Mt. Hermon and Rochester, N. Y.; 23 have been received on confession and 12 by letter into the church; there is $1,628 in the church treasury, considerably in excess of past years; $280 has been given to missions
